

A Star is Born

CANCER SURVIVOR AND CAREGIVER PINS

The Cancer Survivor and Caregiver pins were created for the St. Clair Hospital Cancer Support Group. The star signifies a source of energy that radiates light. When diagnosed with cancer, we are robbed of this brilliance, leaving us depleted both physically and emotionally.

The center of the star is FAITH coupled with HOPE and LOVE. Faith is an intangible means of support and a survival technique to help sustain us through a difficult journey. Hope is the sacred space inside one's self that gives energy to continue during difficult times. The love of Self, God, Family and Friends gives each of us the ability to recreate and renew a positive mental outlook.

The five points of the star are points of light. For the Cancer Survivor, these points depict the patient, doctor, caregivers, friends and treatment. The connecting points of light all work together to recapture our brilliance. Our star is reborn!

The Cancer Survivor and Caregiver pins are available to honor anyone who has had a cancer diagnosis and his/her caregiver(s).

Each pin is accompanied by a bookmark that is inscribed with an inspirational message of hope.
